1.0 Uvod

1.1 Korišćeni programsi jezici

Za izradu sajta su korišćeni sledeći programski i markup jezici i biblioteke: HTML5, CSS3, Bootstrap, JavaScript, XML, XSL, AJAX, JQuery i njegov plugin Fancybox. Sajt je urađen u Brackets-u.

1.2 Opis funkcionalnosti

Sajt ima sledeće funkcionalnosti:

- Single page website prelazak na određeni deo sajta preko navigacije i linkova je postignut efektom animate u JQuery-ju radi boljeg korisničkog iskustva.
- Drop down menu urađen pomoću Bootstrap-a i CSS3.
- Pretraga - korišćeni JavaScript, AJAX i XML. U navigacionom baru se nalazi link u headeru u vidu dugmeta koji vodi ka divu #two čiji se sadržaj učitava iz XML datoteke i filtrira prema ukucanoj ključnoj reči. //pretraga ne radi
- RSS i Sitemap formatirani pomoću XSL-a. Nalaze se u footeru.
- Anketa i kolačići odrađeni u JS. Nalaze se u delu index.html#poll. Rezultati glasanja se smeštaju u kolačić i ispisuju ispod forme za anketu pritiskom na dugme Results (rezultati se ne prikazuju u Mozilli).
- Forma za registraciju odrađena pomoću Javascripta. Validacija se vrši preko regularnih izraza. Nalazi se u delu index.html#registracija.
- Kontakt forma Nakon provere unetih podataka putem regularnih izraza, podaci se ispisuju ispod forme pritiskom na dugme Send čime se otvara i mejl servis sa popunjenim poljima za naslov i poruku.
- Galerija odrađena pomoću JQuery-ja (upotrebljen je FancyBox plugIn preuzet sa interneta).
- Kružni slider za slike na početnoj stranici (index.html#home), urađen u JQuery-ju.

- FadeIn efekat za slike , urađen u JQuery-ju.
- SEO optimizacija preporučena za jednostranične sajtove.

1.3. Template

Sajt je urađen kao single-page website.

1.4. Korišćeni CSS

2.3 Slike stranica i opisi funkcionalnosti

2.3.1 index.html

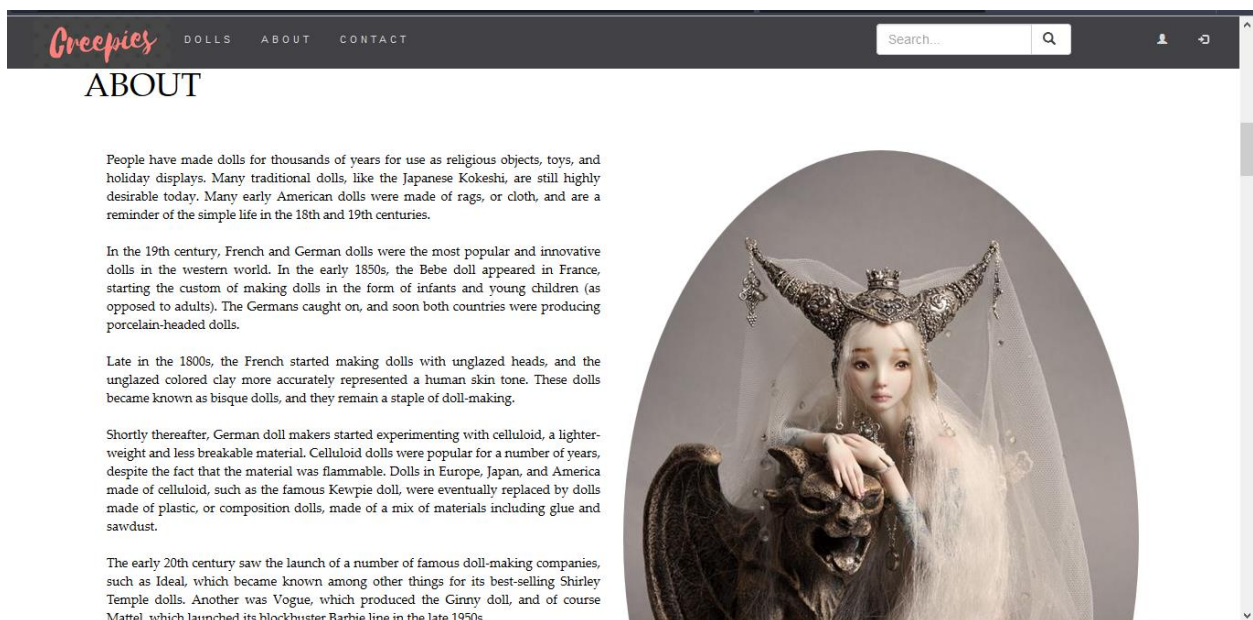

Sajt se sastoji od jedne stranice koja je podeljena na celine – divove koji se pozivaju preko svog id-ja, putem fiksiranog navigacionog bara ili drugih linkova u sklopu stranice.

#home

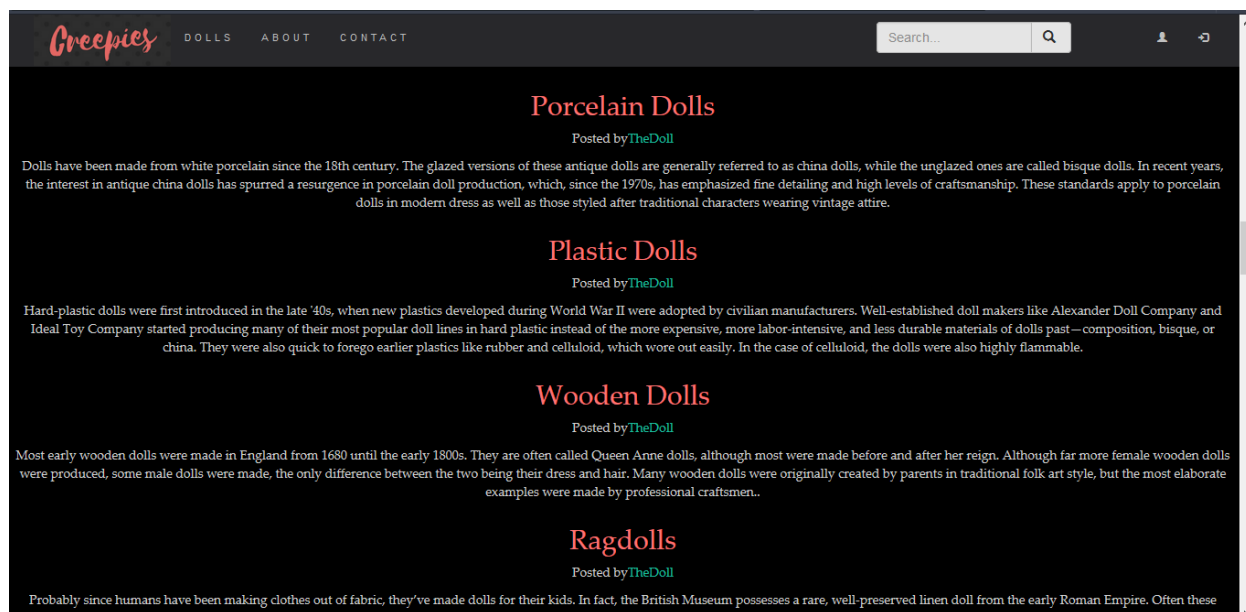

U početnom divu nalazi se slajder sa slikama urađen putem JQuery-ja tako da se slike ponavljaju ciklično, kao i linkovi koji vode do formulara za registraciju i logovanje.

#one

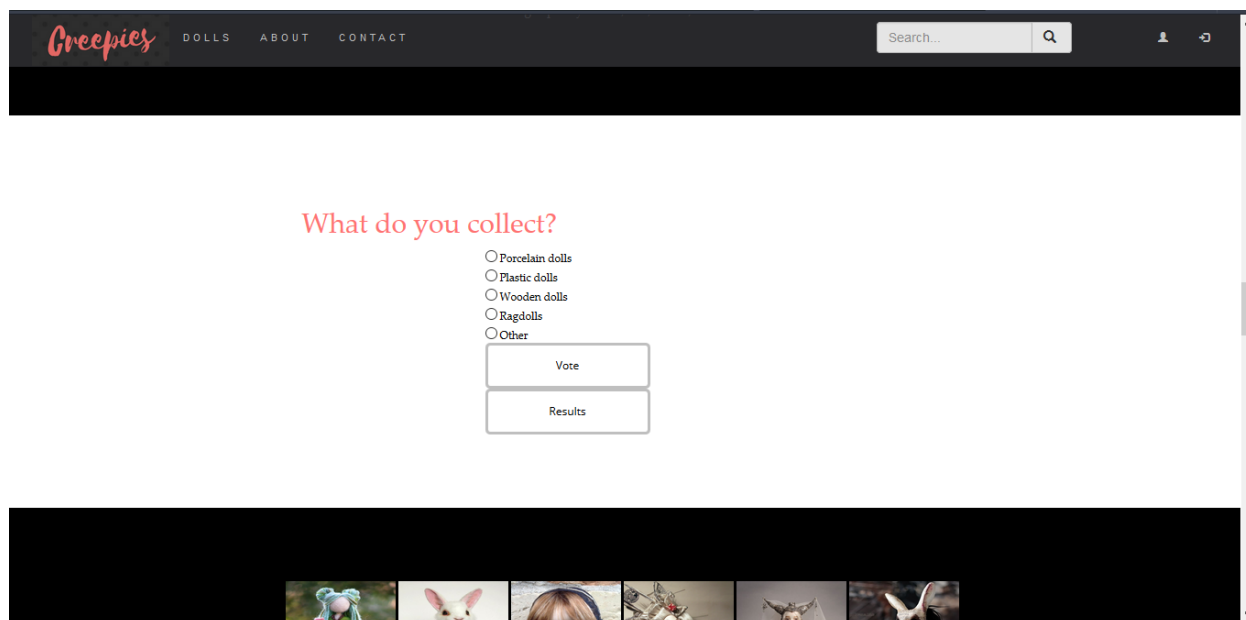

U drugom divu nalazi se tekst o temi sajta. Slika se postepeno pojavljuje što je postignuto FadeIn funkcijom JQuery-ja.

#two

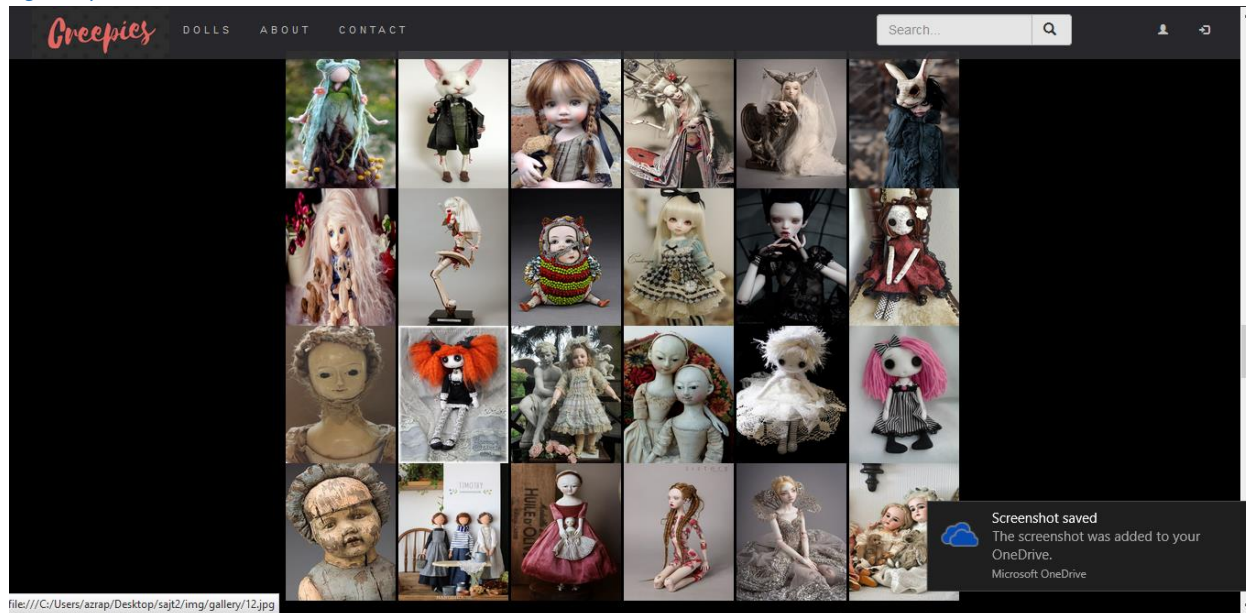

Tekstualni sadržaj ovog diva učitava se iz XML dokumenta dolls.xml. Prikaz je omogućen putem JavaScripta i Ajaxa.

#three

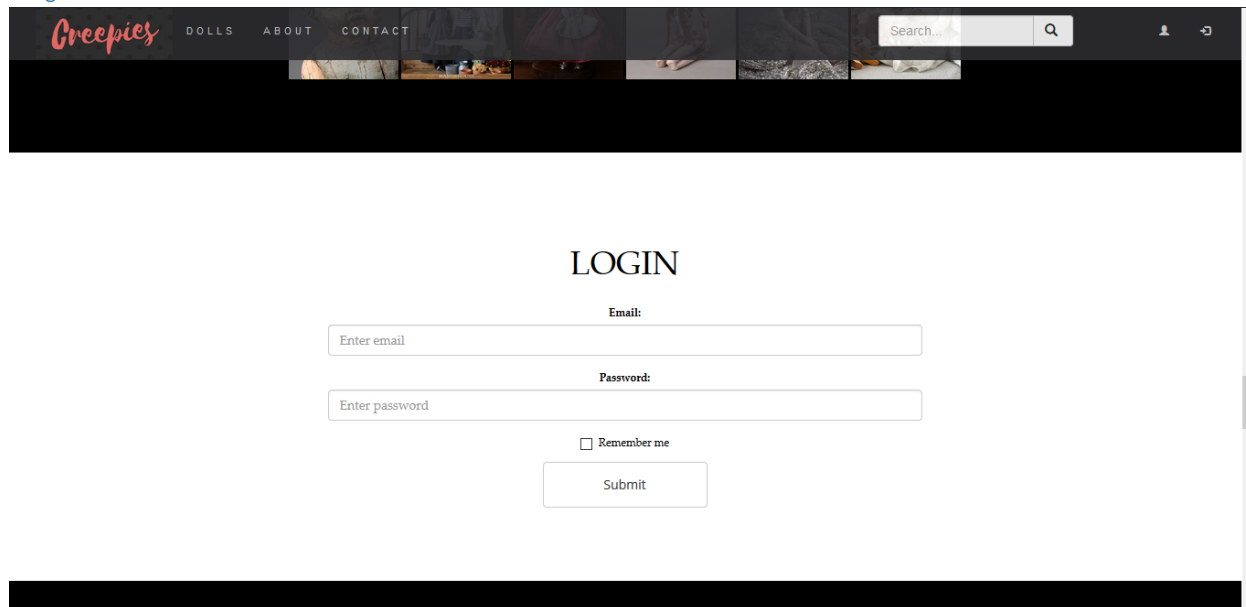

Ovde se nalazi anketa urađena u JavaScriptu. Mora se izabrati jedna opcija pre pritiska dugmeta Vote nakon čega sledi obaveštenje o uspešnom glasanju. Pritiskom na taster Results prikazuju se broj glasova za svaku od opcija, koji su sačuvani u kolačićima.

#gallery

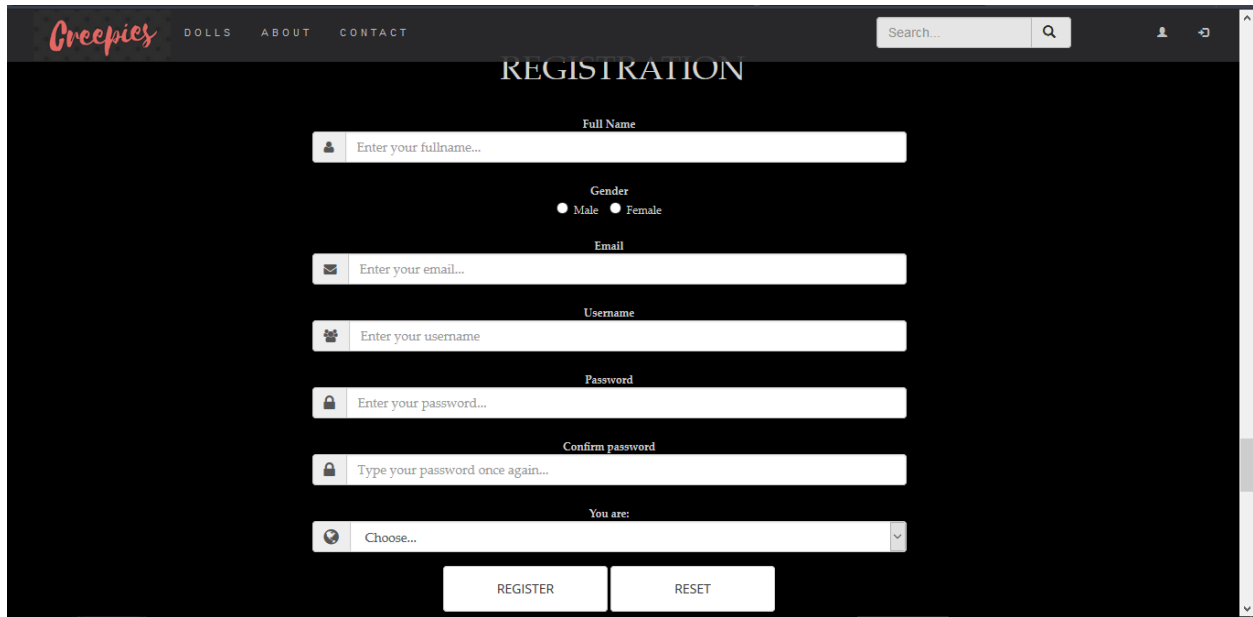

Galerija je urađena pomoću JQuery-jevog plugin-a FancyBox.

#login

Podaci za logovanje proveravaju se putem regularnih izraza.

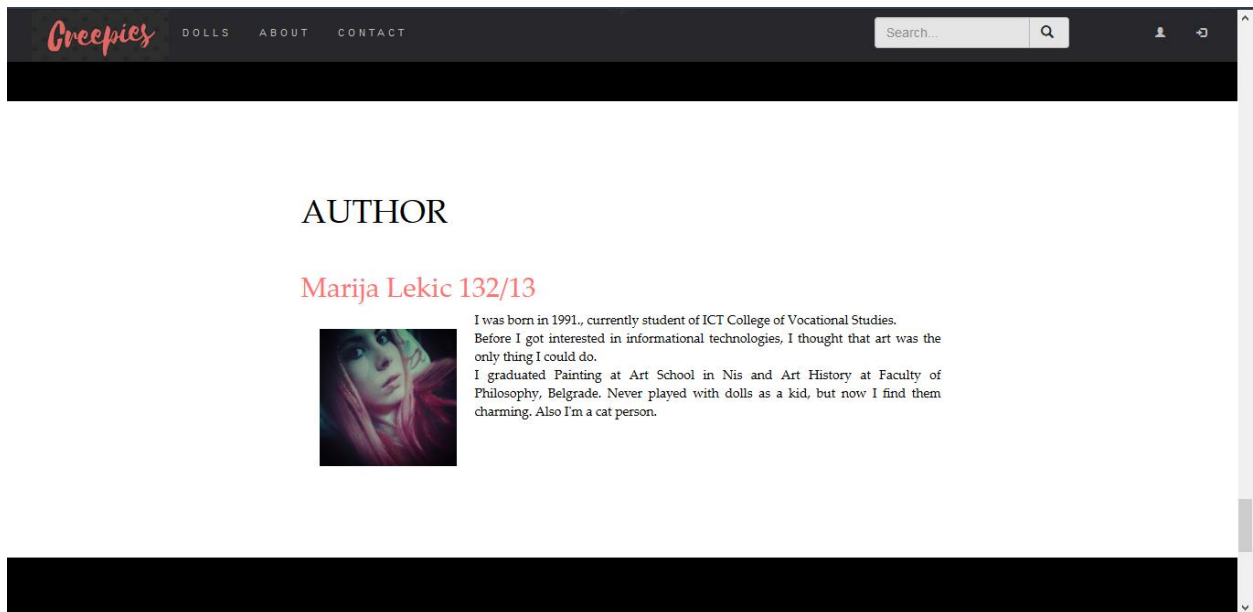

#register

The screenshot shows the 'REGISTRATION' page of the Greepies website. The header includes the Greepies logo, navigation links for DOLLS, ABOUT, and CONTACT, a search bar, and user icons. The registration form consists of several input fields: 'Full Name' (with a person icon), 'Email' (with an envelope icon), 'Username' (with a user icon), 'Password' (with a lock icon), and 'Confirm password' (with a lock icon). There is a 'Gender' section with radio buttons for 'Male' and 'Female'. Below the password fields is a 'You are:' dropdown menu with 'Choose...' selected. At the bottom of the form are 'REGISTER' and 'RESET' buttons.

Nakon validacije urađene u JavaScriptu putem regularnih izraza, ukoliko nema obaveštenja o greškama, uneti podaci se ispisuju ispod forme.

#author

The screenshot shows the 'AUTHOR' page of the Greepies website. The header is identical to the registration page. The main content area features the title 'AUTHOR' in large, bold, black letters. Below it, the author's name 'Marija Lekic 132/13' is displayed in a red, stylized font. To the left of the text is a small, square, artistic portrait of a woman with long, flowing hair. To the right of the portrait, there is a block of text providing biographical information about the author, including her birth year, education, and interests.

Marija Lekic 132/13

I was born in 1991., currently student of ICT College of Vocational Studies.
Before I got interested in informational technologies, I thought that art was the only thing I could do.
I graduated Painting at Art School in Nis and Art History at Faculty of Philosophy, Belgrade. Never played with dolls as a kid, but now I find them charming. Also I'm a cat person.

Osim podataka o autoru sajta, ne sadrži nikakve funkcionalnosti.

#four

The screenshot shows the 'CONTACT' page of a website called 'Creepies'. The header has the logo 'Creepies' in red and navigation links 'DOLLS', 'ABOUT', and 'CONTACT'. A search bar is on the right. The main content area has a dark background. On the left, it says 'Collector? Drop a note.' followed by location 'Belgrade, RS', phone '+00 1515151515', and email 'marija.lekic.132.13@ict.edu.rs'. On the right, there's a contact form with fields for 'Name', 'Email', and a large 'Comment' box, and a 'Send' button. The footer contains icons for Sitemap, RSS, and documentation on the left, and social media links (Facebook, Instagram, Pinterest, Snapchat, Twitter) on the right.

Validacija vrednosti unetih u kontakt formu JavaScriptom i regularnim izrazima. Ukoliko su podaci ispravni, nakon pritiska na dugme se ispisuju ispod forme i ujedno se popunjava mejl korisnika podacima iz forme. U futeru se nalaze sa jedne strane ikonice koje vode do Sitemap-a, Rss-a I dokumentacije, a sa druge ikonice/linkovi društvenih mreža.

<h1>ABOUT</h1>

<article>

People have made dolls for thousands of years for use as religious objects, toys, and holiday displays. Many traditional dolls, like the Japanese Kokeshi, are still highly desirable today. Many early American dolls were made of rags, or cloth, and are a reminder of the simple life in the 18th and 19th centuries.

In the 19th century, French and German dolls were the most popular and innovative dolls in the western world. In the early 1850s, the Bebe doll appeared in France, starting the custom of making dolls in the form of infants and young children (as opposed to adults). The Germans caught on, and soon both countries were producing porcelain-headed dolls.

Late in the 1800s, the French started making dolls with unglazed heads, and the unglazed colored clay more accurately represented a human skin tone. These dolls became known as bisque dolls, and they remain a staple of doll-making.

Shortly thereafter, German doll makers started experimenting with celluloid, a lighter-weight and less breakable material. Celluloid dolls were popular for a number of years, despite the fact that the material was flammable. Dolls in Europe, Japan, and America made of celluloid, such as the famous Kewpie doll, were eventually replaced by dolls made of plastic, or composition dolls, made of a mix of materials including glue and sawdust.

The early 20th century saw the launch of a number of famous doll-making companies, such as Ideal, which became known among other things for its best-selling Shirley Temple dolls. Another was Vogue, which produced the Ginny doll, and of course Mattel, which launched its blockbuster Barbie line in the late 1950s.

Though most antique dolls started out as toys, some dolls have been sought by collectors from the beginning. A good example is the Simpich Doll Company, which produced small numbers of limited edition Christmas and Americana-themed dolls for over 50 years.

<article>

I was born in 1991., currently student of ICT College of Vocational Studies.

Before I got interested in informational technologies, I thought that art was the only thing
I could do.

I graduated Painting at Art School in Nis and Art History at Faculty of Philosophy, Belgrade.

Never played with dolls as a kid, but now I find them charming.

Also I'm a cat person.

<text>Dolls have been made from white porcelain since the 18th century. The glazed versions of these antique dolls are generally referred to as china dolls, while the unglazed ones are called bisque dolls.

In recent years, the interest in antique china dolls has spurred a resurgence in porcelain doll production, which, since the 1970s, has emphasized fine detailing and high levels of craftsmanship.

These standards apply to porcelain dolls in modern dress as well as those styled after traditional characters wearing vintage attire.</text>

<title>Plastic Dolls</title>

<headline>Posted by</headline>

<author>TheDoll</author>

<text>Hard-plastic dolls were first introduced in the late '40s, when new plastics developed during World War II were adopted by civilian manufacturers.

Well-established doll makers like Alexander Doll Company and Ideal Toy Company started producing many of their most popular doll lines in hard plastic instead of the more expensive, more labor-intensive, and less durable materials of dolls past—composition, bisque, or china.

They were also quick to forego earlier plastics like rubber and celluloid, which wore out easily.

In the case of celluloid, the dolls were also highly flammable.</text>

<title>Wooden Dolls</title>

<headline>Posted by</headline>

<author>TheDoll</author>

<text>Most early wooden dolls were made in England from 1680 until the early 1800s.

They are often called Queen Anne dolls, although most were made before and after her reign.

Although far more female wooden dolls were produced, some male dolls were made, the only difference between the two being their dress and hair.

Many wooden dolls were originally created by parents in traditional folk art style, but the most elaborate examples were made by professional craftsmen..</text>

<title>Ragdolls</title>

<headline>Posted by</headline>

<author>TheDoll</author>

<text>Probably since humans have been making clothes out of fabric, they've made dolls for their kids.

In fact, the British Museum possesses a rare, well-preserved linen doll from the early Roman Empire.

Often these homemade cloth or "rag dolls"—the term for dolls constructed out of any kind of fabric—are pieced together from rags and scraps of fabric found around the house, although they also can be created from high-quality cotton, silk, velvet, or felt.</text>
